CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, July 15.-[Special Telegram to the BEE. |-Wheat dragged to-day and there was a weak undertone to the market. Cables were discouraging and lower. Only a light export trade at New York to-day was reported. The receipts of new wheat at primary winter wheat markets are on the increase and the public is neglecting the bull side of the deal. Harvest returns from the winter wheat country do not quite come up to expectations, and previous estimates and reports of damage in the northwest are again becoming radical now that the immediate effects of the recent rains have worn away. The freer arrivals of Indian wheats and the belief that the California wheat now held by the syndicate will soon be for sale, are doubtless the prime causes of foreign weakness, though advices from San Franciscothat the year wheat is quoted at $1.93 in that market-may be accepted as proof that up to to-day the syndicate has held its grip on its wheat. At this point the weather continues to be oppressively hot, yet, strange to say, there was less gossip affoat relative to the condition of grain in store than there was yesterday. Trade in the wheat pit was light and price changes were by no means startling. Indeed the range was narrow, viz: 14@3gc. August opened at 71c, sold off to 70%c, advanced to 71c, swung between 7054@71c for an hour or more, and closed at 70%c, a loss of %c as compared with yesterday. September ranged exactly the same as August, keeping 2c above it and closing at 72 %c. October started in late at 74%c, ranged 74% @74%c and closed at 74%c. December ranged 77% @77%c and closed at 77%c.

743c. December ranged 773c@773c and closed at 7743c.

A good business was transacted in the corn pit, and the tone last developed was one of weakness. The market opened rather firm and a shade higher on a continuation of drought news and scare talk about light local stacks. drought news and scare talk about light local stocks. The sentiment thus engineered stimulated inquiry to a point that carried prices up 1/4c, August going from 37c to 371/4c, September from 375/4c to 38-4c. September from 375/4c to 38-4c. Later, however, intelligence drifted in that local showers were mitigating the drought to some extent, and simultaneously the shorts found comfort in the thought that even though local stocks were light there was plenty of grain within easy reach that could be had in case of a pinch. Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri send in reports of brilliant corn crop prospects, and the gloomy cloud that has been hanging low over the pit for some days was observed to over the pit for some days was observed to have a silver lining. The market sold off %c have a silver lining. The market sold off 3cc and closed soft at a range of prices a mere shade above the inside figures realized. August rested at 363cc. September at 373cc and October at 373cc. A rattling business was done throughout the sessiou.

The speculative trade in oats to-day was rather quiet, the business, all told, being under an average volume. In early dealing prices were stronger and about 4cc higher than yesterday's closings, but subsequently an easier tone prevailed and the improvement was lost, the market closing steady. Most of the trading was in August and September.

Most of the trading was in August and September.

In the provision pit the day was somewhat uneventful, influenced by advices from the stock yards, where hogs were in moderate supply and higher. The opening for lard and short ribs was strong and at materially higher prices. In short ribs the first sales recorded an advance of 10c, and in lard 71/4c. Lard subsequently lost a portion of the appreciation and short ribs the whole of it, yet during the day both articles showed decided strength. For August delivery short ribs sold from $8.30 down to $8.20, which was the closing bid. The range for September short ribs was from $8.20 down to $8.275/4, and for October from $8.23/4 down to $8.275/4, October rested at $8.171/4, and September at $8.830. August lard sold at $6.671/4($6.70, and September at $6.55/6.80, the former month closing at the lowest price named bid, and September at $6.67/4. October lard was 71/4c under September. Pork sold sparingly at $11.50/211.60 for the year and $12.00 for January, with the near deliveries entirely nominal.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, July 15 .- [Special Telegram to the BEE. |-CATTLE-Though the receipts to-day were lighter than for some days past, the run for the week amounts to about 7,000 more than last week. The general market to-day was without much change, but the more desirable kinds of cattle sold rather stronger. Some salesmen said it was easier to sell cattle, but not at any quotable advance. The prices for cattle are about 25c vance. The prices for cattle are about 25c lower than they were one week age. Many corn fed cattle are selling as low as $3.30@3.50. A Pittsburg man bought sixteen cars of cattle at $3.10@4.20, averaging 25c less than last Friday, and he said the highest priced cattle were the cheapest. Shipping steers, 1,300 to 1,500 lbs. $3.70—4.15; 1,200 to 1.350 lbs, $3.50@4.25; 950 to 1,200 lbs, $3.00@$3.50; stockers and feeders, $1.250@3.00; cows, bulls and mixed, $1.250@2.70. Hoos-There was a regular old-fashioned boom in this market during the morning, prices going up about as fast as the mercury in the thermometer, making an advance of a strong 10c, nearly everything selling as high as $5.50@5.60, a few at $5.65, one lot of heavy at $5.07%, and one lot of light at

NEW YORK, July 15 .- | Special Telegram to the BEE. |-STOCKS-The improvement in stocks at the close yesterday was continued to-day. London was a fair buyer of Reading, Lake Shore, Union Pacific and Louisville & Nashville, and this had a beneficial effect on the general market and a marked change for the better was noticed among room traders, who were inclined to view from a business standpoint the favors formed in Western Union, and prices started rapidly upward. The rest of the list sympathized, and advances of 4@1 per cent were secured. The sudden death on the floor of Vice President Hill, of H. L. Horton & Co., cast a gloom over the board, and it closed suddenly at 11:30 out of respect. The big deal was again brought to the front, but in a different shape. The latest is that the Baltimore & Ohio deal is said to have been completed and Gould is left out in the cold, as a big syndicate, composed of Messrs. Drexel, Morgan & Co., Christopher Meyer and Alfred Sully of New York, and Irving A. Evans, of Boston, who is backed by an English gold syndicate, have taken the Baltimore & Ohio and relieved the Ives-Staynor syndicate of all their Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton and Baltimore & Ohio securities; also three options on the Baltimore & Ohio and their securities they had deposited for loans. Mr. Pierepont Morgan is the only man Gould fears because of the magnitude of the funds which the former controls and his ability to carry out any gigantic scheme he may undertake. The intervention of this syndicate was brought about by Garrett, who desired to get Ives out of the way. The latter, it appears, has been too leaky, and although recently quiet he talked too much to Gould while on his yacht. He is alleged to have let things out that it was most desiraple to keep quiet until the consummation of the deal. The result of this new deal will put the Baltimore & Onio in control of the syndicate and leave Mr. Gould out. If he is allowed to come in at all he will not have the chance to dietate the terms as he proposed to do with Mr. Ives. It is understood that Ives he went in with, and it is hard to see where Mr. Gould made anything either. It is probable that Gould and Ives have been watching ally light.

The wreck on the B. & M. prevented the arrival of any stock from that road, which made the receipts, especially of hogs, unusally light.

the stock market together. It is still a ques tion with the syndicate whether they will let Gould in and make a bull of him, or leave him out and let him slobber over the market and scoop him again, as he was scooped in the bull market of 1885. The syndicate has some of the same people who carried out the West Shore deal so successfully, and they expect success in this deal. It is said that the syndicate sent $2,500,000 to England to take all the Readin; stock that is hypothe ated there and bring it here to be used in consummating the deal. When the syndicate has formally taken possession of the property closer relations between Reading and Baltimore & Ohio will probably be arranged. The Baltimore & Ohio deal is now out of the market. In addition to the above was the report that the Baltimore & Ohio had leased the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton for 10 per cent of the earnings on common and 4 per cent on preferred stock. Ives, however, pronounced it a canard.
